

Women in Innovation

“

Empower a women, empower a nation. ”

Dr. Eva Wangechi Mubia Njenga

#AHAIC2021

Women in Innovation

“

No one has a monopoly on ideas. As WHO we are on the forefront advocating with countries to create environments where everyone can contribute their ideas. If women are given space and the right tools to unleash their creativity and ingenuity, the world will benefit.

”

Dr Matshidiso Moeti

#AHAIC2021

Women in Innovation

“

Education has the same importance in development that cement occupies in construction. For this reason, education is the best gift that one can give to the youth, especially to those in Developing countries To the youth, remember the key to success is determination and the will to never give up. The opportunities are there for you to take.

”

Edna Adan Ismail

#AHAIC2021

Women in Innovation

“

I love teaching because I get the honour of guiding the transformation of young minds into competent engineers with a passion to take on the world's biggest challenges.

”

Theresa Mkandawire

#AHAIC2021

Women in Innovation

“

We are at a point in history where the rate of medical knowledge expansion is increasing faster than we can consume it. We are at a point in history where the need to share knowledge has never been more important. We are at a point in history where no patient should still die because they do not live in a city. We are also at a point in history where we can change this, through innovations that drive collaboration between the healthcare community to empower improved clinical decision making and better patient outcomes.

”

Nicole Kayode

#AHAIC2021

Women in Innovation

“

It takes a village to empower Africa's women entrepreneurs!

The ecosystem needs to include more capacity building programs that use technology to break the traditional and geographic barriers that hold back women-led SMEs.

”

Desiree Joule-Adam

#AHAIC2021

Women in Innovation

#AHAIC2021

Women in Innovation

#AHAIC2021

Women in Innovation

#AHAIC2021

Women in Innovation

#AHAIC2021